Orange

Orange is the color of vibrancy, flamboyancy and energy. It denotes warmth & the sun. It's a combination of red and yellow and shares some common attributes of both these colors. However, it is less intensive and aggressive than red and more calm than the cheerfulness of yellow. Orange color being warm has a stimulating effect on both appetite and emotions.

Orange can be found in nature when the leaves change color during the fall, in skin & citrus fruits. The color orange brings up an image of autumn, pumpkins, thanksgiving and with a combination of black of Halloween. It represents the color and weather change between the warmth of the summer and the coolness of the winters.
